

Right and Wrong Roleplay Prompts

Read each roleplay prompt below to your students and ask students to volunteer to act out the scenario.

You can ask the student playing the main character to act out two responses to the situation – one being the “wrong” way to behave, followed by the “right” way to behave. Afterwards, compare these two responses and justify why one is considered “wrong”, while the other is “right”.

Roleplay Scenario

Marko really wants to play with a toy that Ben is using. What should Marko do?

Angela can see that Emma is sitting alone in the playground and has nobody to play with. What should Angela do?

Henry can see that Jamal has a yummy snack and wants to try it. What should Henry do?

Steven is getting annoyed because Sandeep keeps poking him in the back. What should Steven do?

Asha has asked her parents for dessert and they said, “No, not until you finish your dinner.” What should Asha do?

Lina found some coloring pencils in the playground. The box has the name and class of the student who lost it. What should Lina do?

Samira accidentally broke a toy that she borrowed from her cousin. What should Samira do?

Talia threw a ball too hard and it broke a window in her house. What should Talia do?

John can see someone crying in the playground after they fell over and scraped their knee. What should John do?

